The 34-year-old, who worked for an energy company, was diving off La Paz's sea wall on Sunday when he went missing. Figueroa said Schmidt had at least one dive partner when he disappeared, and the two divers had been diving since the morning. The divers reached an area with a strong current. When their rebreather ran out of gas, they surfaced and waited for a backup rebreather to arrive. The heavy current was making it difficult for the rescue team to pick them up, Figueroa said. The divers stayed at the sea wall for 20 to 25 minutes and, with the help of a marine police officer, were able to hook into the
