Adobe Illustrator Illustrator is another standard tool used by graphic and web designers to create vector graphics. Many designer-focused magazines and websites are produced entirely in Illustrator. The Nonetheless, Photoshop Elements is a very powerful graphics editor and, although the professional counterpart is more powerful, Photoshop Elements is still a useful tool for designers and photographers. To show you the power of Photoshop Elements and how you can use it to improve your skills and create some neat and creative images, we will go through all the features you will need to work with graphics software, how you can use them in web design, how they can help you become a better graphic designer and photographer, and how you can use them for artwork and illustration. Let's dive right into our list of Photoshop Elements tutorials.

The Basics In this part we will introduce you to the basics of Photoshop Elements, what it offers and how you can use it. It's a very versatile and powerful graphics editor that can do a great deal more than what we will describe here. Before we begin, we should warn you that Photoshop Elements is a trialware application, so you don't get to keep it and continue using it after the trial ends.

Step 1: Opening your images First thing we need to do is open your images. You can do this by going to File > Open and navigate to your image. Or, you can start from the Web, upload an image and then download it.

Step 2: Aligning your images It is possible to align your images by adjusting their positions from the dialog boxes. Let's open one of our images. When you open your image, you'll be presented with the blank area in the center of the image. This area, where your image will be placed, is called the canvas. At the bottom of the dialog boxes, you will see the dialog box for the canvas. Scroll down and you will see a preview of your image on the right side of the dialog box and the option to "make selections". You will notice that a "box" is showing around the preview area. This is your selection area. You can actually adjust this area to where you want your image to be located. To align your image from the right click on the "box" then click on "Align to selection". The image should move to the center of the box. If you want to delete your selection just click on the box.

Q: How to find the intersection of a line and a polygon in R? I have a set of lines, each of which intersects a polygon. I want to find which of the polygon's vertices are intersected by the lines, and then plot an image of these intersections. I have a code that does the former, but i'm not sure how to do the latter: #LISTEN TO THE DOCU HERE: library(raster) #Parameters: #height - how high should the water surface be #cellsize - width of each cell of the raster #colors - how many colors should there be #maxval - highest value in the raster #minval - lowest value in the raster #vip - value in the raster at intersection points (usually 0) #lines - a list of one-row by two-column data. #polygon - a list of one-row by two-column data #raster - name of the raster library(rasterVis) z = raster(ncol=2, nrow=1) x = runif(100) y = runif(100) x

[Prevalence of Meningococcal carriage and vaccination coverage, Finland, 2011-2012]. Susceptibility of capsular polysaccharide of Neisseria meningitidis (NmCPS) and vaccination coverage are important indicators for monitoring disease epidemiology and need for vaccination. The NmCPS carriers and vaccinated persons may differ in terms of age. To assess NmCPS carriage and vaccination coverage during 2011-2012 in Finland. Epidemiological data from National Institute for Health and Welfare in 2011-2012 were used for our analyses. Estimated vaccination coverage was based on the vaccine dose issued in the national immunization register. The estimated NmCPS carriage prevalence was estimated in two ways: 1) by including only children aged 0-2 years (prevalence-population) and 2) by estimating the prevalence by including children aged 2-6 years as well (prevalence-population). The number of people positive for NmCPS was 1,127 for children aged 0-2 years and 3,030 for children aged 2-6 years in 2011-2012. According to the NmCPS vaccine coverage estimates, NmCPS vaccination coverage was 90% in infants (aged 0-2 years) and 90% in toddlers (aged 2-6 years). Carriage of NmCPS in children aged 2-6 years was estimated to be 5.7%. An estimated 90% of NmCPS in children aged 0-2 years were carrier of NmCPS in 2011-2012. Our results indicate that most of the NmCPS carriers were also vaccinated. The coverage of children aged 0-2 years was similar to that of adults in 2011-2012. Marital status and survival time of newly diagnosed oral cancer patients in mainland of China. The aim of this study was to examine the importance of marital status for survival time of patients with oral cancer in mainland of China, and to assess the association of marital status with histologic grade, clinical stage and first-course radiotherapy (FSRT) in newly diagnosed oral cancer patients. A total of 470 newly diagnosed oral cancer patients from nine cancer centers in mainland of China from January 2007 to December 2010 were included. The estimated 5-year survival rate was 39.7%. Univariate analysis showed that the married patients had longer survival time than the unmarried patients (P
