FFXIV Bodyswap DLC â€” Requiem of the Goddess DLC â€” Q: Android - Data persistence across dex files I have followed the tutorial to create a web server. Now, I am using my app to connect to a web server. What I have done is created the android app in eclipse and compiled it. Then I just removed the.apk file and instead I copied the apk file from my android phone and installed it in another phone. The problem is, I do get the log in, so the following code should work: public class LoginActivity extends AppCompatActivity { String login_user = "ted"; @Override protected void onCreate(Bundle savedInstanceState) { super.onCreate(savedInstanceState); setContentView(R.layout.activity_login); TextView log = (TextView)findViewById(R.id.login_user); log.setText("Welcome"); } } Now, I get the error, of course, that it does not recognize the variable. I did try to install eclipse and that did not help me at all. I am pretty sure that this is due to the fact that the dex files that eclipse generates has no reference to the code that I wrote in the onCreate method. Is there a way to make eclipse regenerate the dex files that I need, instead of the dex files that it generates? Or is there some way to directly download the apk file and install it in my phone? A: You have created the.apk package and installed it on other phone as an independent package. Now, it does not have any reference to your LoginActivity class. But, if you install the same app package then, it will automatically get reference to your LoginActivity class. 6d1f23a050
