What's New In HtmlToOpenXml?

The HtmlToOpenXml package provides a class to convert simple or advanced html to OpenXml document. In OpenXml, the nodes are stored by default as strings which means if you want to use a node with different type, you have to explicitly convert it to desired type. This package provides more intelligent approach by converting the html nodes as specified by the tags. All nodes stored in OpenXml as specified are converted automatically. Usage: This package provides classes which helps to generate OpenXml document. All you have to do is to add an instance of the class to the document collection. You can also specify other tags to be converted and all tags specified will be converted in the document. Why this package? This package helps to convert simple or advanced html to OpenXml document as a standalone application or as a part of a solution for document conversion. How to use this package: This package allows you to convert html to OpenXml document. You can convert as simple as possible or as advanced as possible. The most important thing is that you have to specify the tags to be converted. //Example 1: DocumentConverter converter = new DocumentConverter(documentCollection);
//converter.FormatHtmlToOpenXml(documentCollection[0]); converter.FormatHtmlToOpenXml(new

Uri("")); //Example 2: DocumentConverter converter = new DocumentConverter(documentCollection);
//converter.FormatHtmlToOpenXml(documentCollection[0], HtmlTags.H1);
converter.FormatHtmlToOpenXml(new Uri(""), HtmlTags.H1); //Example 3: DocumentConverter converter = new DocumentConverter(documentCollection);
//converter.FormatHtmlToOpenXml(documentCollection[0], HtmlTags.H2, HtmlTags.DIV);
converter.FormatHtmlToOpenXml(new Uri(""), HtmlTags.H1, HtmlTags.DIV); //Example 4: DocumentConverter converter = new DocumentConverter(documentCollection);
//converter.FormatHtmlToOpenXml(documentCollection[0], HtmlTags.H3, HtmlTags.DIV);
